Major manpower program may leave the OMI; alleged mismanagement

By GEORGE FULMORE

For the past two years Ed Freeman has run a truck driver's training program on Broad Street in the OMI as part of the Mayor's Manpower Training Program. Over 150 "disadvantaged" persons, including 25 women, have graduated from the 12-week course. Over 90 percent of these received a Class I license; many went on to high paying jobs.

"We have had the best manpower program in the city and everybody knows it," said Freeman. "We have been able to take these people through a 12-week course and make them qualified for an $18,000-a-year job."

Despite his claims of success, Freeman may not be selected to run the program again when new funds become available in November. Freeman's operation is now being audited for alleged unauthorized expenditures, hinted to be in excess of $20,000.

Freeman, well-educated and articulate, denies that any money has been misspent. He is fighting hard to have the program remain in the community.

A major portion of the alleged unauthorized expenditures involve a "graduate course" run by Freeman. It used graduate drivers paid by private funds. But it also used manpower money to rent equipment for a private trucking firm, OMI Trucking, set up by Freeman. He explains that the company was set up in desperation in order to give his graduates actual hauling experience.

When his program was set up in 1974, Freeman was able to get an agreement with the Teamster's Union local stating that they would accept his graduates into their membership. Because his program used unloaded trucks, however, graduates could qualify only for Class "B" cards. Few were getting jobs.

Freeman decided to set up the private trucking firm to seek affirmative action contracts for private freight. After 30 days of hauling with a load, his drivers could then qualify for a Class "A" union card.

He claims that the manpower office knew he was running his graduate program, and approved of it at the time, but won't admit that now.

"No funds have been embezzled. Nobody has any money in their pockets," he said. "I've never operated a program like this before and I'm bound to make mistakes. It's the first and only manpower program this community has ever had. If whatever I have done is so bad, don't defrock the neighborhood. Just fire me."

The S.F. Board of Supervisors has placed a 60-day hold on any new award of the truck driver's training funds. By that time the audit of Freeman's operation will be done.

Eunice Elton, Director of the Mayor's Office of Employment and Training, is the one who will make the recommendation to the mayor as to who will get the new training jobs. Freeman and three other groups have submitted bids.

Does Elton think Freeman misused previous monies?

"I'm sure in his mind he hasn't," she said. "We grant money, however, to do a very specific job. Ed has used a bunch of money for what he felt was a worthwhile purpose. It was not authorized, nor could it have been. I would have some trouble recommending to the city that Ed was a responsible contractor. We have had so many administrative problems."

Freeman still hopes to get the new funds. But in any case, he would like to keep OMI Trucking in business. He said he has the drivers and, given a hauling contract, he can get any equipment he needs.

"If I can find jobs for these people I can keep them from returning to the streets and the jails," he said. "I'm screaming my head off that OMI Trucking Company ought to get $1 million in an affirmative action contract for the sewer project.

"I'm here in the position to explode a myth and a lot of people are not too happy about this," he added. "They can't escape the logic of it. But a lot of people are jealous so they say get him off the scene."

Freeman's organization is also connected with the new food stamp outlet on Ocean Avenue, the EOC office on Broad Street and a child-care center, also on Broad Street.

Face painting and the Futuristic Funk on stage were two popular activities at the OMI Street Fair held Sept. 11.

OMI Street Fair gets the community together

The weather cooperated; local merchants, street artists, and community groups maintained booths; dancers and singers entertained; and approximately 2000 people attended the first OMI International Street Fair.

"To me this is the greatest thing that has occurred in this community in the seven years since I've been here," said Olliver Loud, director of the Farragut recreation center. Loud maintained a booth in selling "many useful things."

The fair ran from noon to 6 p.m., Saturday, September 11 on Holloway Avenue between Granada and Faxon Avenues. Entertainment ran almost continuously. Barry Thornberry on Guitar, the magic tricks of David Wall, dancing by the Ann Healy Irish Dancing School and the Afro Motion Performing Dance Co., gospel singing by the Cosmopolitan Specials, and the rock sounds of Futuristic Funk highlighted the entertainment.

"This is what makes the difference between a neighborhood and a community," said Bob Covington, the president of the Federation of Ingleside Neighbors and a member of the OMI-CA. "The OMI has tended to be just a neighborhood. When things like this happen it shows how the people of the OMI can enjoy themselves and come together in a spirit of community."

A demonstration by Fire Station No. 5 and a visit by the Pickle Family Circus were two special events.

The fire station gave a demonstration of its aerial ladder truck. Following the demonstration, neighborhood youth were invited to climb aboard for a thorough inspection. San Francisco Fire Chief Andrew C. Casper was on hand to represent the department and the city of San Francisco.

A list of all the organizations and individual participants in the fair would be too long to publish. Special recognition, however, goes to the U-haul Company of San Francisco for their donation of a pick-up truck for the day, S.F. Parks and Recreation for the booths and Neighborhood Arts for the stage and excellent sound system.

The major credit for organizing the fair goes to chairwoman Veronica Hunnicutt and OMI-CA coordinator Eleanor Siden. But the efforts of many community people and the donations from many OMI merchants were essential to the fair's success.

Safeway is vital to OMI

In the September OMI NEWS we examined the plans of Safeway to close its store on Ocean Avenue. Safeway says the store is "inefficient" and "outdated." We think the store could be remodeled and modernized; we think Safeway has made an arbitrary decision to leave the community.

If the OMI is to remain a viable community it needs a strong business element. The Safeway store has plenty of parking and plenty of potential business driving by. If it can't make money on Ocean Avenue, who can?

The OMI-CA wants Safeway to improve the store image and to continue to be a member of the OMI business community.

When questioned about the September article, Safeway's Urban and Public Affairs Manager, Bill Gross, said only, "Thank you for printing our side of the story." and "I don't think I can add anything to what I have said earlier."

We ask Gross and Safeway for a more substantial response.

From the readership

Editor:

You are to be congratulated for your September edition front-page story in evaluation of the Safeway situation and their store on Ocean Avenue.

Mr. Roy Jackson as quoted hit the nail squarely on the head and the community can only wish he had used a heavier hammer.

Mr. Bill Gross, Urban and Public Affairs Manager for Safeway, appears to need some experience in public relations. His "excuses," and that is exactly what they are, have the dull but unfortunate ring of total ineptness.

There is no doubt in my mind that this Store is losing money, but that blame rests squarely with Safeway and not the people of this community. Why should one shop in a store that is inadequately stocked, with third rate produce and in many instances meat of questionable quality? In addition, the store is often dirty and unattractive in interior appearance.

I would like to hear an explanation from Mr. Gross for the rationale of the Diamond Heights store enlargement and interior improvements. This was done at the expense of forcing out existing small businesses in the same building. Could it have been dictated by the location and perhaps relative affluence of the residents of Diamond Heights and Twin Peaks?

In short, this community is being given the shaft by Safeway.

"Since we're neighbors, let's be friends." Indeed!

Ed Taillon

Editor:

I have read two issues of your paper since living in the area (a few months now). I see the OMI NEWS as basically a publication of local news and neighborhood business advertisement. As far as the news is concerned, I would like to see some kind of reporting on national and international issues and how such issues relate to neighborhood problems, etc. I think such coverage would greatly add to the overall appeal of the OMI NEWS by providing something unique in a publication of this kind. It is the kind of news that would increase the appeal and prestige of the paper.

To the People
Of the OMI Community and Its Supporters

I was pleased with the results of the recent street fair; it reassured me of the fact that we can get ourselves together for a worthy cause. May I take this opportunity to thank all the people who attended the fair. Most of all I appreciate the way those who attended conducted themselves. Oh how nice it is when mankind can come together in peace and harmony.

I have been asked by many individuals in the community when the OMI-CA will schedule another event of this kind. Well, let's say it is up to the community to tell us when they would like to do it again. So get those letters and phone calls into the OMI-CA office.

The OMI-CA needs your membership to keep up with the rising costs of maintaining our office and to help fund committee work and activities such as the street fair. Please get your membership in today. Out of 12,000 OMI residents we should have a membership of at least 500.

Another matter of importance is the exodus of Safeway from the OMI. I think we need to retain all the services that we have now in order to maintain a healthy community. Send your ideas and opinions on this matter to me at 201 Granada Ave., San Francisco, Ca. 94112.

The OMI-CA Fall Banquet will be held Saturday, Oct. 9, at the St. Francis Episcopal Church, San Fernando Way at Ocean Ave. A social hour will begin at 6:30; dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m.

Lonnie Lawson, Catherine Lee and Chester Toney will be the chefs for the deluxe dinner. Entertainment will be by the Balboa High School dance club, "Orchesis," and guitarist and singer Larry Thornberry. The City College of S.F. Jazz Quartet will provide dinner music.

For ticket information please call 584-8188.

St. Emydius benefit tonight

St. Emydius Executive Club will sponsor a dinner dance at the St. Emydius Gym, 255 Jules Avenue at 7 p.m. tonight, October 2. Tickets are $8.50 per person, $17 per couple. For reservations call 333-5777, 334-3476, 333-2592. Proceeds benefit St. Emydius School.

Pilgrim Community Church, 86 years

Pilgrim Community Church at 400 Randolph St. observes its 86th anniversary on Sunday, October 17 at 4 p.m. with an ecumenical bicentennial service of worship symbolizing the new partnership ministry among the six congregations of the United Church of Christ in San Francisco.

Heart Assoc. Show

Geraldine Earp and Delsia Fleming, announce that Bethel Chapter No. 31, Order of Eastern Star, will have a benefit show, "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," for the San Francisco Heart Association. Entertainment will be presented by Rose Bush Corporation. Carolyn Henderson, OMI-CA Board member, will be a guest model.

The affair will be held Saturday, October 30, 8 p.m. at Thutmose Temple, 111 Raymond. For information call Delsia Fleming (586-8270).

Todd Cochran gets 4th award

Todd S. Cochran and Roy J. Knight, owners of K.C. Dodge in San Francisco, were recently awarded their fourth Distinguished Dealer Award by the Chrysler Corporation. Mr. Cochran is the son of Rev. Laura Todd Cochran, longtime resident of the OMI area and assistant to the pastor at Pilgrim Community Church.

St. Michael's reunion held

The 25th anniversary of St. Michael's school was celebrated on September 17, 18 and 19.

On Saturday evening, Father Warner, the driving force behind the opening of the school, delivered the sermon. Sister Margaret O'Rourke, co-ordinator of the nun's order, was the guest speaker at Sunday mass.

During the celebration many old friends and teachers drew together to reminisce on the "good-old days."

Retirement course

The Civil Service College of the San Francisco Community College District is offering a tuition-free class to help people prepare for retirement. The course is offered at San Francisco State University, Tuesdays from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Instructor Roy Drury plans to include several guest speakers. For further information call 626-0996.

Concert at SFCC

Admission is free.

Tutorial counseling services offered

The OMI Family Center at 2335 Ocean Ave. now offers tutorial-counseling services, which include educational assessment, individual remediation, group tutorials, parent counseling, and school supportive services. For more information call 334-4717.

The center also offers counseling for persons of all ages, vocational rehabilitation, and emergency service. (681-8080).

Rummage needed

St. Emydius Women's Guild asks for old clothing, furniture, books, plants, etc., for their annual rummage sale. For pickup, call 731-4442.

Meals on Wheels

The service of Meals on Wheels is available to residents of the Parkmerced and OMI areas who are confined by illness. Meals are delivered to homebound residents five days a week, excluding holidays.

For further information phone one of the following: Meals on Wheels office (552-4343), Lucille Tobiassen, OMI coordinator (585-4978), or St. Francis Episcopal Church (334-1590).

The winner of the $25 gift certificate from Chubb & Co. is Wanda Turk of Holloway Avenue. Her name was drawn from those entering the contest at the street fair.

Local schools get ESSA program

St. Emydius, St. Michael's, St. Finn Barr and Aptos Jr. High schools will participate this year in the Emergency School Aid Act Program (ESAA).

The basic concerns of the ESAA program will be to reduce racial isolation and tension among students and between students and staff.

Student activities will assist in developing positive self-image and cross-cultural understanding.

Pendleton wins golf tourney

by Vincent Moore

On August 29th the 7th Annual, O.M.I. Benefit Golf Tournament was staged at the Cypress Hills Golf Course in Colma, California.

In the championship scratch flight, Fred Pendleton emerged as the new O.M.I. champion for 1976 besting a tough field of competition with a blistering 71. Last years champion, Tom Wilson, only 2 strokes off the pace won second place honors shooting 73 and third place went to Billy Caldwell scoring a respectable 75, only 4 strokes behind the leader. This sets the confrontation for next years tournament.

Congratulations are also in order for the following trophy winners: "A" Flight: 1st Place Norman Braxton — 61; 2nd Place M. Guntner — 67 and 3rd Place Harry Williams — 68. "B" Flight: 1st Place Eugene Smith — 70 and Bill McMichaels — 72. "C" Flight: 1st Place A. Watson — 59; 2nd Place D. Robinson — 66 and 3rd Place W. B. Fisher — 67. "D" Flight; 1st Place T. Starnes — 76 and V. Moore — 77. An exciting playoff in the Calloway Flight saw G. Hollier victorious over J. Squire, both ending 18 with 69's. 3rd Place only one stroke back was claimed by R. Jackson — 70.

The ladies flight produced Ms. J. Grant with a smart 69 over Ms. Watson. Look out next year Ms. Grant.

The Juniors Flight was also a tense battle. A 75 brought last years second place winner, Don Smith, 1st Place honors while last years winner Herman McKee and Kevin Watson tied at 84 behind him.

To all the winners, good round; to the losers, back to the driving ranges. Next year maybe some new names will fill some slots.

The O.M.I.-C.A. wishes to express to the following who donated, contributed, and were so vital in making our tournament a success; a very warm and sincere THANK YOU!
